

Cultivate Wellness

The City of Isanti offers a variety of wellness opportunities for community members by providing access to healthy foods, beautiful outdoor spaces that support physical activity and relaxation, and a great sense of community. The Isanti Family Farmers' Market is a great community asset, and continues to grow in popularity. Local sponsors enable us to do more each year for the Market. With the help of sponsors, we are able to make our market a great family experience with kids' activities, food demonstrations, and other educational opportunities to help families thrive. The City of Isanti also offers a community garden to area residents. Community Gardens are sprouting up across the country and are proving to have positive benefits to the physical and mental wellness of their users.
